

Tips to Prepare for SAT

- ✓ Begin your SAT preparation at least 3–6 months in advance. This will give you enough time to cover all the sections and practice extensively.
- ✓ Familiarise yourself with the structure of the SAT, including the number of sections, question types, scoring system, and time allotted for each section.
- ✓ Create a comprehensive study plan that includes regular practice sessions, review of concepts, and timed practice tests.
- ✓ Identify your weakest areas and allocate more time and practice to improve those sections.
- ✓ Regularly take full-length practice tests under timed conditions to simulate the actual test environment and monitor your progress.
- ✓ After each practice test, thoroughly review the questions you got wrong, understand the reasoning behind the correct answers, and learn from your mistakes.
- ✓ The SAT reading and writing sections heavily emphasise vocabulary. Make an effort to learn new words and their meanings through flashcards, vocabulary lists, or reading widely.
- ✓ Practice pacing yourself during the test, and learn strategies to manage your time effectively.
- ✓ Preparing for the SAT can be challenging, so find ways to stay motivated and engaged throughout the process, such as setting achievable goals or seeking support from friends or family.
